ACCLAIMED DISCOVERY MANAGEMENT COMPANY RELOCATES TO NEW OFFICE IE Discovery Corporate Headquarters Schedules Move

AUSTIN, TEXAS, March 15, 2006 – Austin-based discovery management and litigation support firm, IE Discovery, Inc. is pleased to announce the moving of their corporate headquarters. Still based in Austin, TX, the move will provide IE Discovery with even greater abilities to deliver services to clients. The company also maintains offices in the Los Angeles and Washington D.C. areas.

“By doubling the size of our workspace, we’ll better accommodate present resources and projected growth.” states Bill Detamore, CFO of IE Discovery. “This move will allow us to attract and retain the highest quality staff – a critical component in delivering quality discovery management services in this rapidly changing industry.”

In conjunction with the move, significant upgrades to the technology infrastructure – both internally and externally – are underway.

“We will display an even higher capacity to load volumes of documents remotely, more redundant connectivity (including fail-over redundant power) for our clients accessing data via the InfoDox™ platform, and improved fail safes on climate control systems in our data center for backup drives and other forms of stored data.” notes CEO Chris May. “In addition, we are implementing a state of the art IP/telephony technology system that will allow us to manage remote communication more effectively and rapidly deploy collection teams at our client sites.”

Chris adds, “I am excited about the move. Through the hard work of our employees and loyalty of our clients, we are able to expand our corporate headquarters and improve the functionality of our services - ultimately leading to increased value for our clients.”

Later this year, IE Discovery also plans expansion in their Washington D.C. office, increasing current office space by nearly 50% as well.

IE Discovery’s new Austin office is located at: 13640 Briarwick Drive, Suite 250, Austin, Texas, 78729. The new phone number will be (512) 498-7400.
